A Workshop on “Preparation for Civil Service Exams” under the Career Guidance Cell

On 25.10.2018, a workshop on the topic ‘How to prepare for Civil Services Exams’ was organized in the Institution. Sri.G.H. Antanthramu, Deputy Chief (Rtd), Programme Co_ordinator, Krishik Foundation, Hassan, who has given a very informative lecture on the topic. Sri.C.R.Chandrashekar Iyer, Vice-Chairman presided over the function and Dr.V.Srinivasa was also present during the program.

Sri.Ananthramu, the resource person while delivering the lecture has observed that, one of the biggest myths about the civil services examination is that home-study or self-preparation does not give the desired outcome when it comes to cracking the IAS Exam. Over the years, many IAS Toppers have emerged successful who solely relied upon studying at home and dedicating more time towards self-study.

Every year lakhs of candidates appear in the UPSC Civil Services exam. This exam is conducted in three stages, i.e., Prelims, Mains and Personality Test. Although many candidates take guidance from coaching institutes, that does make it mandatory. In this article, we bring you some tips on how to prepare for UPSC by self-study.

The key Highlights of this Workshop were like;

1. Understand the exam pattern and syllabus.
2. Build a strong foundation with NCERT books.
3. Join a UPSC Exam Coaching or prepare a study plan to study at home.
4. Read newspapers for current affairs.
5. Practice with mock tests and focus on answer writing skills.

A Special Lecture Program on the topic “ First Medical Aid Methods & its Benefits” was organized on 29.09.2018

Dr. Bharathi Rajashekar, General Physician, Bharathi Nursing Home, Hassan, was the Resource Person was the Resource Person to address on the topic of this special lecture program.

First aid is the provision of initial care for an illness or injury. It is usually performed by a non-expert person to a sick or injured person until appropriate medical treatment can be accessed in a hospital or by going to a doctor. Certain self limiting illnesses or minor injuries may not require further medical care after the first aid intervention. It generally consists of a series of simple and in some cases, potentially life-saving techniques that an individual can be trained to perform with minimal equipment. The First aid training, therefore, is of value in both preventing and treating sudden illness or accidental injury and in caring for large number of persons caught in a natural disaster. It is a measure both for self help as well as for the help of others.

Self-help: If you, as a first-aider, are prepared to help others, you are better able to care for yourself in case of injury or sudden illness. Even if your own condition keeps you from caring for yourself, you can direct others in carrying out correct procedures to follow on your behalf.

Help for Others : Having studied first-aid, you are prepared to give others some instruction in first-aid, to promote among them a reasonable safety attitude and to assist them wisely if they are stricken. There is always an obligation on a humanitarian basis to assist the sick and the helpless. There is no greater satisfaction than that resulting from relieving suffering or saving a life.

Why the First Aid : The main objective of first aid is not to cure, but to ensure safety until the patient or affected person accesses specialised treatment. It is the initial assistance or care of a suddenly sick or injured person. It is the care administered by a person as soon as possible after an illness or accident. It is this prompt care and attention prior to the arrival of the ambulance that sometimes creates the difference between life and death, or between a full or partial recovery. The major objectives of first aid are: (i) to ensure that the victim reaches the place of specialised treatment safely and life is not lost in-between; (ii) to prevent further harm, i.e., the injury that has taken place, does not deteriorate further; (iii) to prevent the danger of further injury; and (iv) to promote recovery, i.e., necessary intervening care is taken in a way that promotes recovery and relieves the victim of pain and uneasiness.

Dr.V.Srinivasa, Principal inaugurated the program and Sri.C.R.Chnadrashekar Iyer, Vice-Chairman & Senior Advocate has presided over the function. Dr.H.S.Hemanth Kumar was the Coordinator of this program.

Special Lecture Program on “Women’s Rights & Issues” during the International Women’s Day Celebration

A special guest lecture was organised as a celebration of World Women’s’ Day on the topic “Women’s Rights & Issues” on 16.03.2018. Dr. A. Savithri, MBBS,MD (Ob&G), Malnad Nursing Home, Hassan , who was present as chief guest and resource person during the programme.

Sri. C.R.Chandrashekar Iyer, Vice-Chariman & Senior Advocate, delivering the Presidential Speech.

Dr.Madival.K.Matoli was the Resource Person during the Special Lecture program on the topic “One Nation One Constitution”. Sri.C.R.Chandrashekar Iyer, Vice-Chairman, Dr.V.Srinivasa, Principal and Dr.H.S. Hemanth Kumar, Convenor of the Program, were present during the lecture program.

Resource Person in the Lecture Program Dr. Madival.K.Matoli while speaking on the occasion has said that, as per the provisions of Article 370, the Parliament had the right to enact laws with regard to defence, external affairs and communication for Jammu & Kashmir; but to make laws related to any other subject, the Centre had to seek the consent of the state. The Parliament of India could enact laws only on limited subjects in connection with Jammu & Kashmir. Due to Article 370, most of the sections of the Constitution of India did not apply to the State of Jammu & Kashmir. The people of other states could not purchase land in Jammu & Kashmir. Similarly, the provision of financial emergency as enshrined in Article 360 of the Constitution of India did not apply to Jammu & Kashmir. The Central RTI Act also did not apply to Kashmir. The tenure of the Legislative Assembly of Jammu & Kashmir was 6 years, whereas the tenure of Legislative Assemblies of other States is 5 years.

With freedom from Article 370 and 35-A, Dr. Shyama Prasad Mukherjee's resolve of 'One Nation, One Law and One Head of the nation' became a reality after 70 years of Independence. As a result, Jammu & Kashmir and Ladakh, also called the Heaven on Earth, are moving on the path of progress, in step with the rest of the country. Whereby the spirit and the desire of the Constitution for One nation One Constitution was said to be accomplished.

Family is a part of the society and every family starts with marriage. The institution of marriage exists in every society in one form or the other. People generally feel that marriage and family are the only proper and possible ways of living to live. They have derived such feelings as they have lived in a family as children and have always felt that family is the safest place for living. Hence, marriage is an established norm which reflects the attitude, beliefs and behavior of the people. It is an interpersonal relationship with communal or religious acknowledgment. The concept of marriage is deeply and effectively rooted in every society of the world. Many countries consider marriage as a bond which exclusively gives consent for a sexual relationship and for having children, as in such countries sex and having children before marriage is seen as a sin. The concept of marriage being multi-dimensional involves social, legal, economic and cultural aspects.

Third Millennium Development Goal aims to empower women. Despite serious efforts, process of women empowerment has been lagging behind the target rate. Responsibility of marital status cannot be denied for such outcome because it has an important role in Indian women's life. Marriage in India is considered as an important social event and is supposed to transmit traditional values across generations. Hence, in orthodox society, lone women (unmarried/widow/ divorcee/ separated) are subject to disrespect in anticipation that they are rebelling against patriarchy. Again in this type of society, majority of Indian women are discouraged to opt job, therefore, marriage becomes the only option for their future settlement and security. Hence, life of Indian women is supposed to spin around their marital status, which possibly has some influence on their level of empowerment. Present study evaluate the influence of marital status on women empowerment, explores the possible reasons of difference in empowerment, if any, and suggest some way-out to eliminate this difference. Except married women, all lone women is found to have miserably low empowerment and are not allowed to take part in the familial decisions though they have the right to keep money for their own use and enjoy some mobility freedom.

It is ironical that most women are unaware of their legal rights, and thus keep mum. In order to fight injustice, it is important to have through knowledge about the rights. The Constitution of India, under Article 14, backs women and their rights in the country. It ensures women equality and equal protection of the laws. Article 15(3) empowers the state to take affirmative action in favour of a daughter-in-law.

A wife has the legal authority to live with proper dignity and self-respect with her in-laws. She also has the right to have the same lifestyle that her husband's and in-laws have. This legal right provides married woman independence after marriage.
