Academic Year: 2018 -19

Best Practice No -1 GROUP DISCUSSION

Aim:

One of the best practices of the college in this year is the introduction of the group discussion among the students, besides their regular Seminar presentations. Aim of this practice is to provide opportunity to improve their confidence and art of speech, as this is quite a very important requisite for Lawyers.

The Context:

In the present higher education scenario, the definition of education extent to access, accountability and quality having market demand. So it is need of the hour to educate the students of their minds, the mouths and their hands also making them efficient to appear before future legal professional competition.

The Practice:

The practice is going on since its inception throughout in all the classes of the law course. The Group discussion is done once in a week in each class. The topics being discussed are relating to current legal issues, like recent judgments of courts, new legislation or new amendments etc ., concerning the subjects been taught in the relevant semester. Students own separate questions from the lessons completed. They discuss the question among themselves and a student deliberates it from his side and others listen. Every student has the liberty to put question during the deliberation. Teacher evaluates the same.

Evidence of Success:

This practice enhanced the art of speech of the students and motivates towards creativity. It is observed that students became thrust to improve the spirit of understanding through the lesson.

The problem encountered and resources required:

The non availability of literature for reference in their medium of language, Kannada was an hardship for many of the students. However, the frequent conduct of such group discussion is helping them to overcome their language barrier.

Best Practice No - 2:

Observance of Gandhi Jayanti

Goal:

Aim of this practice is to sensitize the students about moral values left to us by the father of this nation, Mahatma Gandhi.

The Context:

In the present context, professional education has developed the spirit of material business and its phantom pleasure. It is the need of the time to sensitize the students with moral, ideal and social philosophy of Mahatma Gandhi to build them as perfect citizens of this nation.

The Practice:

The practice is performed organizing quiz competition, essay writing and extempore speech. Teachers judged the performances of the students. Principal and the faculties could address the students and they are made to realize the values and moral principles practiced by Mahatma Gandhi is the need of the hour among the present young generation.

Evidence of Success:

The students obtain the ample opportunity to know the life and philosophy of Gandhi. They are inspired with the ideals of Gandhi which reflected in their speeches. They also made to pledge to follow the foot steps of Gandhi.

The Problem encountered and resources required:

Though students initially hesitant and casual in their response, but later they actively participated in the programme and did the entire activity a grand success. The young generation of today are urgently needed to be informed about the ideals and values practiced by our nation builders, without barrier of either schools, colleges or universities.
