A Workshop on “Preparation for Civil Service Exams” under the Career Guidance Cell

On 25.10.2018, a workshop on the topic ‘How to prepare for Civil Services Exams’ was organized in the Institution. Sri.G.H. Antanthramu, Deputy Chief (Rtd), Programme Co_ordinator, Krishik Foundation, Hassan, who has given a very informative lecture on the topic. Sri.C.R.Chandrashekar Iyer, Vice-Chairman presided over the function and Dr.V.Srinivasa was also present during the program.

Sri.Ananthramu, the resource person while delivering the lecture has observed that, one of the biggest myths about the civil services examination is that home-study or self-preparation does not give the desired outcome when it comes to cracking the IAS Exam. Over the years, many IAS Toppers have emerged successful who solely relied upon studying at home and dedicating more time towards self-study.

Every year lakhs of candidates appear in the UPSC Civil Services exam. This exam is conducted in three stages, i.e., Prelims, Mains and Personality Test. Although many candidates take guidance from coaching institutes, that does make it mandatory. In this article, we bring you some tips on how to prepare for UPSC by self-study.

property, and many other areas. Additionally, one can use one's legal skills and qualifications to pursue other non-law-related careers such as business management, consulting, and public policy.

2. Professional Growth: With the right qualifications and experience, one can quickly progress in legal career. There are opportunities to move up the ranks in the legal profession, with roles such as a partner or senior associate at a law firm or judge in a court of law.

3. Great Earning Potential: Lawyers are some of the highest earners because the scope of the law in India is enormous. With the right qualifications and experience, one can command a very competitive salary. In addition, he/she also has the potential to earn through bonuses, commissions, and other financial incentives.

4. Respectable Profession: Law is respected in India, and lawyers are seen as having great wisdom and knowledge. This allows us to gain public recognition and appreciation for one's work.

5. Challenging Work: A legal career is highly demanding and intellectually stimulating. We'll be required to think on our feet, stay up to date with legal developments, and be able to communicate effectively with clients and colleagues.

Panel Discussion on the topic "Euthanasia" was conducted on 13.04.2018.

In India, euthanasia is a crime. Section 309 of the Indian Penal Code (IPC) deals with the attempt to commit suicide and Section 306 of the IPC deals with abetment of suicide – both actions are punishable. Only those who are brain dead can be taken off life support with the help of family members. Likewise, the Honorable Supreme Court is also of the view that the right to life guaranteed by Article 21 of the constitution does not include the right to die. The court held that Article 21 is a provision guaranteeing protection of life and personal liberty and by no stretch of imagination can extinction of life be read into it. However, various pro-euthanasia organizations, the most prominent among them being the Death with Dignity Foundation, keep on fighting for legalization of an individual's right to choose his own death.

A major development took place in this field on 7 March 2011. The Supreme Court, in a landmark judgment, allowed passive euthanasia. Refusing mercy killing of Aruna Shaunbag, lying in a vegetative state in a Mumbai Hospital for 37 years, a two-judge bench laid down a set of tough guidelines under which passive euthanasia can be legalized through a high-court monitored mechanism. The court further stated that parents, spouses, or close relatives of the patient can make such a plea to the high court. The chief justices of the high courts, on receipt of such a plea, would constitute a bench to decide it. The bench in turn would appoint a committee of at least three renowned doctors to advise them on the matter.

In our society, the palliative care and quality of life issues in patients with terminal illnesses like advanced cancer and AIDS have become an important concern for clinicians. Parallel to this concern has arisen another controversial issue-euthanasia or "mercy -killing" of terminally ill patients. Proponents of physician-assisted suicide (PAS) feel that an individual's right to autonomy automatically entitles him to choose a painless death. The opponents feel that a physician's role in the death of an individual violates the central tenet of the medical profession. Moreover, undiagnosed depression and possibility of social 'coercion' in people asking for euthanasia put a further question mark on the ethical principles underlying such an act. These concerns have led to strict guidelines for implementing PAS. Assessment of the mental state of the person consenting to PAS becomes mandatory and here, the role of the psychiatrist becomes pivotal. Although considered illegal in our country, PAS has several advocates in the form of voluntary organizations like "death with dignity" foundation. This has got a fillip in the recent Honourable Supreme Court Judgment in the Aruna Shaunbag case. What remains to be seen is how long it takes before this sensitive issue rattles the Indian legislature.

PRINCIPAL
K. J. SOMAIYA LAW COLLEGE
MUMBAI

Students actively participated in the Panel Discussion and presented their opinions on the basis their research on the topic. Dr.Palaksha.K.H, President, Tavaru Charitable Trust, Hassan. was the Resource Person during the panel discussion. Dr.V. Srinivasa, Peincipal and Sri.C.R.Chandrashekar Iyer, Vice-Chairman were present in the program.

Inter-Class Moot Court Competition was organized on 14.01.2023. The competition was inaugurated by Mr.C.R.Chandrashekar Iyer, Vice-Chairman & Senior Advocate, Hassan. During his inaugural speech Mr.Iyer viewed that, Mooting is a very popular co-curricular activity in Law Schools. Mooting not only helps in improving students' researching, drafting and oratory skills but it also develops a lot of soft skills like confidence, communication, teamwork, etc. A lot of students seek to participate in prestigious Moot Court Competitions like the NLSIU, B'lore International Law Moot Court Competition, Symboisis International Law Moot Court Competition, etc. However, only a few know about the knowledge, skills and hard work required to win such great Moot Court Competitions. Moot Court competitions are an important aspect of law school education that provides students with practical skills and real-world experience.

Mr. H.S.Manjunatha Murthy, a very seasoned lawyer in the Hassan district, during his speech as the chief guest of this program pointed out that, Moot court competitions are an excellent way for law students to improve their oral advocacy skills. In these competitions, students are required to present arguments before a panel of judges or a mock court. This experience allows students to hone their public speaking skills, develop a persuasive argument, and even learn to think on their feet. By practicing these skills in a simulated environment, students can gain the confidence and experience they need to become effective advocates in real-life legal settings.

Another chief guest of this Moot Court program Mr.Harish Babu.A, Senior Advocate,Hassan, has remarked that, Moot Court competitions provide students with an opportunity to develop their legal research and writing skills. Participants are typically given a hypothetical legal case to analyse and conduct research to support their arguments. This process requires students to become proficient in legal research, including finding and analyzing relevant cases and statutes.

Mr. Luckman.J.P. Senior Advocate, Hassan, during his speech as the chief guest has opined that, moot Court competitions are designed to test students' critical thinking and problem-solving abilities. These competitions present complex legal issues that require participants to think creatively and analytically to find solutions. By participating in Moot competitions, students can develop their ability to analyse complex legal issues, think critically, and make effective arguments based on their findings.

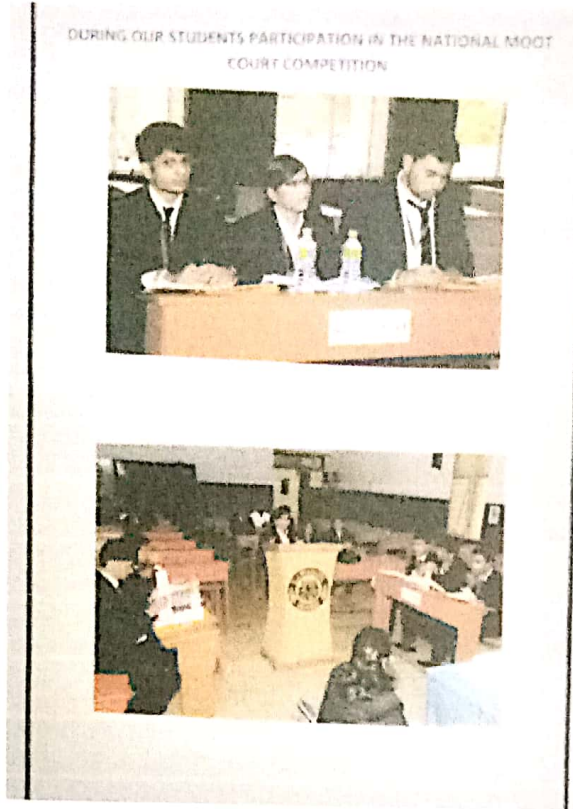

Dr.V.Srinivasa, Principal, while delivering his presidential speech has remarked that, these type Moot competitions provide an opportunity for law students work in teams to prepare their arguments, which requires them to communicate effectively, delegate tasks and work together to develop a cohesive strategy. Through this process, students can develop important skills that are essential in the legal profession, including effective communication, collaboration and team work. Principal has finally congratulated all the student participants for actively participating in this competition event.

Prof.K.S. Rekha, Assistant Professor, who could successfully coordinated this Moot Competition event, and she also delivered the vote of thanks.
